HOW YOU CAN GET INVOLVED

PRAY

- Pray that the Lord would stir curiosity and openness in the hearts of our unbelieving neighbors, that they might attend CE and be forever changed by hearing the good news about Jesus.

SERVE

- Reach out to the Director of CE, Paul Chelson, or our Director of Mission, Matt Stone, about opportunities to serve.
- Get involved by volunteering to lead table discussions, provide meals, invite non-believing friends, or become trained to lead a CE course yourself. Contact Paul or Judy Chelson to learn more.

Introduction

Christianity Explored (CE) is a seven-week curriculum designed to help people meet Jesus as he walks off the pages of Scripture. CE exists to introduce nonbelievers to Jesus in a friendly, noncoercive way so that they might come to know him.

About Christianity Explored

Mission and vision

The CE course is for anyone who wants to think about the meaning of life. There's no requirement to know anything about the Bible, nor is there pressure to speak, pray, or sing. CE invites anyone who's curious about Christianity to come and enjoy a meal with Christians who are open to their questions. The course meets once a year and looks at Jesus' life as written in Mark.

Partnering to share the good news
Est. 2015 – present

Our church began partnering with CE in 2015 when Paul and Judy Chelson moved back to the Northern Virginia area after serving on staff with the organization in London, England.

Making a difference
Supporting our partners

Our financial giving supports the cost of curriculum materials and meals which provides the opportunity for non-believers to explore what Christianity means.
