HOW YOU CAN GET INVOLVED

PRAY

- For the IJM staff love the victims they serve and for perseverance as they seek justice and community transformation in the face of oppression and corruption.
- For the victims of physical harm and spiritual attack around the world. That their abusers would be held accountable and that spiritual healing and renewal would come.
- For more countries to partner with IJM as they seek to strengthen justice systems worldwide. That world leaders would be receptive and persuaded to eliminate slavery in their jurisdictions.

GIVE

- Consider giving monthly to IJM to support their efforts of protecting children and families trapped in trafficking and modern-day slavery.

SERVE

- Volunteer your time and effort to champion the work of IJM in your area by interning at the organization in D.C. begin a fundraiser or becoming an IJM champion.

Introduction

Today, millions of people live unprotected from modern slavery and abuse. People living in poverty are uniquely vulnerable because local justice systems are not equipped to protect them. Every day, they are at risk of brutal violence like trafficking & slavery, violence against women and children, and police abuse of power. International Justice Mission seeks to change that by partnering with local justice systems around the world to build safe communities, where all are protected from violence and slavery.

About IJM

Mission and vision

IJM accomplishes its mission of building communities where all are protected from violence and slavery by strengthening justice systems, bringing criminals to justice, rescuing and restoring victims, and scaling demand for protection.

Partnering to share the good news 2015 - present

Former pastor James Forsyth had a desire to partner with IJM due to the magnitude of the work that they do globally, and their headquarters locally. That partnership continues today.

Making a difference

Supporting our partners

Our annual giving supports the rescue and restoration of trafficking survivors worldwide.
