Introduction

Founded by former McLean Presbyterian Church Missions Director, Chris Seaton, Project Belong is a non-profit that facilitates relationships between foster families and church communities to care for vulnerable children in Northern Virginia.

About Project Belong

Mission and vision

Project Belong inspires, recruits and resources churches in Northern VA to care for vulnerable children with the hands and heart of Jesus. The church is the hope of the foster care and adoption crisis. The Gospel promises to make all things new and is what can heal the wounds caused by the brokenness that brings children into crisis. Few are called to foster or adopt, but everyone in the church can do something to help.

Partnering to share the good news 2017 – present

Project Belong was founded out of McLean Presbyterian Church in 2017. Our 2017 Thanksgiving Offering of $87,000 served as the organization's seed fund to help launch the ministry.
