HOW YOU CAN GET INVOLVED

PRAY

- That TFI's work would help stem the tide of church abandonment by the younger generations.
- That the church, locally and broadly, would see the value of investing in emerging leaders through deep and intentional discipleship.
- That the church would equip its members, regardless of age, to be faithful followers of Christ when gathered within its walls and when scattered in the marketplace, home, and city.

GIVE

- Consider supporting TFI's work by donating through their website.

SERVE

- Contact John Kyle, Director of Capital Fellows, to learn more about becoming a Host Family, or serving as a Fellows Mentor.

Introduction

The Fellows Initiative (TFI) seeks to inspire and equip members of the emerging generation as leaders for the marketplace, church, and society. TFI serves a network of 30 church-based fellows programs and 280 fellows through recruiting, training, and equipping. By God's grace, TFI is growing at roughly 20% per year. Using a fellows program is now a key part of a church's leadership development strategy. Our own Capital Fellows program is a member of the TFI network.

About The Fellows Initiative

Mission and vision

Locally, the Capital Fellows Program at our church is an intensely practical 9-10 month spiritual and vocational leadership program that prepares a recent college graduate to live a seamless life of faith in Christ. Nationally, TFI seeks to serve and strengthen the network of church-based fellows programs, expand the network by enfolding new programs in new churches and cities, and create community among fellows, alumni, and staff.

Partnering to share the good news

1994 – present

Started by members of our church in 1994, TFI has slowly grown to become a thriving coast-to-coast network of leadership and vocational development programs. McLean's own John Kyle serves as the executive director of TFI locally and nationally.
